

The Washington Times.

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1903—THIRTY-SIX PAGES—

Copyright, 1903,
By Frank A. Munsey.

Probable rain today; brisk winds; Monday cloudy and warmer.

NUMBER 3423.

MAY FIND LAND NEAR NORTH POLE, SAYS MENT. PEARY

Address Before National Geographic Society on Arctic Exploration.

PLEADS FOR ITS HELP

United States Should Not Lose Honor and Prestige of the Discovery.

"Think of the satisfaction of lifting a land out of the heart of the Polar Sea with the Stars and Stripes. Think of writing upon that land some name to endure indelibly until that day when the heavens shall be opened and a scroll to show forever that we own the top of the earth. Believe me there is room yet in this prosaic world for a new sensation."

Such was the appeal, Commander Robert E. Peary, the distinguished Arctic explorer, made to the members of the National Geographic Society, when he addressed last night at the Cosmos Club.

After reviewing the history of Arctic expeditions for the last 400 years Commander Peary mentioned his own plan of approaching the pole by the Smith Sound route and took issue with the friends of Nansen who insist that he exhausted the possibilities of Arctic exploration by approaching within 500 miles of the pole and discovering the nature of the region in which the coveted pole lies.

"An Isolated Island Continent."

Commander Peary declared there is much to be learned of the North Pole, and hinted that there may even be land there which has never been approached. In discussing this subject he said:

"The existence of land anywhere between the northern shore of Grant Land and the Pole would so greatly simplify my work and reduce its difficulties that I do not let myself dwell upon it. But the possibility is there: an isolated island continent, an Arctic Atlantis, with a fauna and flora of its own, with one day and one night in the year, lying there through the blinding days and quiet nights of countless aeons, ages, as completely isolated from the world as if it were on Mars."

Commander Peary expressed satisfaction at the praise newspapers have given his proposed expedition, and mentioned with pride the sympathy and assistance which President Roosevelt and Assistant Secretary Darling of the Navy Department have given him in the preparation of plans for his next attempt to reach the North Pole.

No Government Aid.

He corrected the impression, which seems to prevail, that the Government is to give him financial assistance, and said members of the Peary Arctic Club have offered to subscribe to the fund for the expedition, but have not yet given enough to make the expedition possible. From $150,000 to $200,000 is required and should be subscribed before January 1, to make it possible to begin preparations for the hazardous expedition which Commander Peary hopes to start on next summer.

In asking the assistance of the members of the National Geographic Society in impressing upon the world the benefits to be derived from such an expedition, Commander Peary said the discovery of the North Pole is worth while on account of the valuable additions to science and geography it would make possible, and as a matter of prestige it would far exceed the cost of exploration.

A Milestone in History.

"As a matter of patriotism, based upon the obligations of our manifest destiny, the discovery of the North Pole is worth while," said Mr. Peary.

"The North American world segment is our home, our birthright, our destiny. The boundaries of that segment are the Atlantic and the Pacific; the isthmus, and the Pole. We are full able, I think, to take care of the Atlantic and the Pacific; we are negotiating for the isthmus; it would be a shame for others to find and reach the Pole, and we, our home, our birthright, our destiny, are left behind."

"Believe me the winning of the North Pole will be one of the great milestones of history, like the discovery of the Old by Columbus; and the man, and the association, or the community, or the nation, that makes its discovery possible, will write its name to be read and known when perhaps the very civilization of today is forgotten."

Old Glory on the Poles.

"Six years ago we were sleeping content within our borders, drowsy of our strength and possibilities. Since then we have embraced the earth, and now right hand clasps left in the Far East. In a grasp never to be loosened. What a splendid feat for this great and wealthy country if, having girdled the earth, we might reach north and south, and plant 'Old Glory' on each pole. How the imagination stirs at the thought!"

INSANE MAN JUMPS FROM MOVING TRAIN

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 24.—A keeper and a physician from Bellevue Hospital reported to the police here tonight that Patrick B. Barlow, an insane prisoner being taken from Bellevue Hospital in New York, to the Connecticut Insane Retreat, at Middletown, Conn., had escaped from them by jumping from a moving train about eight miles north of this city. They had been unable to locate the man, who is said to be well known in New York city. Barlow is twenty-eight years of age.

Flynn's Business College, 8th and K. Business, shorthand, typewriting—$25 a yr.—Adv.

TROTTING RECORD AGAIN LOWERED BY LOUILLON

Fast Mare Goes Mile in 1:58 1-2 on the Memphis Track.

SUPREME RULER IN CLASS

Daniel Clips Three and a Half Seconds Off the Record for Pacing Mares.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 24.—Lou Dillon made herself the supreme ruler of the trotting world by going a mile on the fast Memphis track in 1:58 1/2 this afternoon.

She was driven by Millard Sanders, and paced by a runner driven by "Doc" Tanner. No wind shield or other false medium of speed was used, though a strong wind was blowing down the back stretch.

This mile not only lowers the 2:30 record held by her and by Major Delmar, but also lowers that made by Crescens, over which there was a dispute. Daniel, the pacing mare, lowered the world's record for mares by going a mile in 2:04. The previous record was made at Columbus by Fannie Dillard and was 2:03 1/2.

Mr. Billings added another world's record to the track list by driving his trotting team, The Monk and Equity, to the pole attached to a wagon in 2:09 1/2, cutting the former record held by the same team from 2:12 1/2.

MEDICAL STUDENTS TRY TO BREAK UP BANQUET

Rowdism Rampant at the Montrose Hotel.

FIRST-YEAR MEN ATTACKED

Columbian University Boys Break Windows, Raid the Tables, and Are Finally Dispersed by Police.

With vociferous yells of "Down with the street seven o'clock" and "On boys, on! Let's break up the jamboree," two hundred Columbian University medical students of the classes of 1905 and 1906, charged upon the members of the 1907 medical class in the Montrose Hotel, Fourteenth and H Streets north of the city, last evening about 9 o'clock and attempted to break up the first banquet given by the first-year students. That they were not successful is due only to the fact that Lieutenant Ames, of the First police precinct, with a dozen or more of his men, arrived upon the scene just as one of the doors of the hostelry had been broken open, the glass shattered, and the pillagers were about to enter.

The first-year men assembled at the Columbian Hospital about 8:30 o'clock and marched to the Montrose. When they arrived there they discovered that their president-to-be and others were missing.

Raiders Made a Rush.

While they were waiting those not in line when it was first formed, rushing in from the street and explained that "business" had detained them. It was subsequently learned they had been kidnapped and locked up in the boiler room of the Columbian University Hospital.

Suddenly wild howls of derision were sent up on all sides of the Montrose, and one glance through the windows told the first-year men that the house was surrounded by members of the upper classes. Nevertheless they entered the dining room, but before any one had a chance to be seated the outsiders began to throw their weight against the door in their endeavor to break it open.

Policeman Murphy, stationed at the crossing of Fourteenth and H Streets, espied the besiegers coming along H Street, and knew trouble was brewing. He and a dozen men rushed into the building, one taking the H Street and the other the Fourteenth Street side. As fast as Murphy dispersed the crowd at one side they all rushed to the other. At one time on the H Street side, while the first-year men were holding down the windows to keep the outsiders from entering, a band of about fifty raiders rushed at the main door, shattered the glass, and broke the lock. Night Clerk Albert Black, attempting to keep the crowd back, was struck by flying glass and received several slight cuts about the scalp.

Students Start Fight.

Two students on the opposite side of the street began "making passes" at one another and the crowd began to yell "Fight! fight!" in order to distract attention from the door. The ruse proved successful. Murphy turned his eyes toward the other side of the street, and half a dozen marauders forthwith stormed into the dining room and each grabbed a plate of salad, bread, and sandwiches, and rushed to Fourteenth Street, where the choice viands were promptly strewn along the car tracks, while the silver platters, knives, forks, and spoons were dumped into collection pockets.

Excitement is high, and there may be a lynching if the people can get at the negroes. The man who shot Elliott is still at large.

Watch for QGDART. There's money in it—Adv.

BISHOP POTTER GIVES HIS VIEWS ON RACE SUICIDE

Fears Parents Are Really Becoming Averse to Large Families.

DANGER TO THE REPUBLIC

Also Discusses Passing of Home Life and Autonomy of American Women.

Bishop H. C. Potter of New York, who has been attending the Pan-American Congress of Bishops, today discusses "Race Suicide," the home life that is passing away, and the autonomy of the American woman, in an interview with the local correspondent of the "Newark News."

In response to the question as to whether the American woman of today was not opposed to families, the bishop replied: "I fear it is true, and it is to be regretted. In Webster's time, say, the best men and women of the republic came from large families. I think it must have been the association of large families of children with each other, the doing for each other, the self-denial, each one for others and for their parents, that made the men of strong character and the women of a noble domestic life of other generations. This sort of home training, where there are brothers and sisters mingling together under the same roof, in boys and girls, in young men and the young women, the noblest instincts, the most worthy ambitions."

Outgrowth of Selfishness.

"Children and young people must have an inborn and inbred veneration and affection as well as a responsible feeling for those nearest and dearest to them, their brothers and sisters, in order to make the best men and women of them. Where the couple desires but one child, for parents to deliberately deprive their lone child of brothers or sisters is a grave thing. They want the one for a pet, may be. In that case their child was born in selfishness and will be reared in the same atmosphere. If this continues from generation to generation it will be sad for the republic."

"Modern methods of living as exemplified in the large apartment buildings of our cities and towns undoubtedly have a great deal to do with the passing out of existence, to a large extent, of what we call the 'old-fashioned home.'"

Autonomy of Women.

Asked if the women of this country have too much independence, the bishop replied: "The women of America have their autonomy more largely than the women of any other country in the world. While they have their independence in property rights and other methods, they are not a part of the governing community. Men and women who are seeking the most happiness for themselves, and who desire to be good men and women as well as useful citizens upholding the good name of the republic of which they are so proud, cannot shrink from the responsibilities and the duties of the home, which is the foundation of all that is good, everything that is everlasting peace."

SENATOR CLARK WILL BUY MINING INTERESTS

Offers Thru to Settle Trouble in Amalgamated Company's Properties.

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 24.—At a mass meeting of the Butte Miners' Union today it was said that United States Senator William A. Clark and a number of other wealthy Montana residents are planning to buy at the prevailing market price all of the holdings of Mr. McGinnis in the Boston and Montana Company and thus settle the trouble that has resulted in the shut-down of the Amalgamated company's properties in this section.

A committee will wait on McGinnis and ask him to accept the offer. The mass meeting also adopted resolutions calling for an extra session of the Legislature to pass a bill which would permit the transfer of a case of great importance from a partisan to a non-partisan county where it can be shown that prejudice exists that might interfere with a fair trial.

The supreme court was also appealed to to grant an immediate argument of the appeal from Judge Carter's decision in the present litigation, so that an immediate decision covering the points in dispute may be obtained.

OHIO NEGROES JAILED TO PREVENT LYNCHING

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Oct. 24.—As a result of the murder of City Marshal John G. Elliott, while trying to quell a riot at Flushing between negroes and laborers, negroes have been placed in jail at Bridgeport and St. Clairsville to prevent the angry people from lynching them.

Excitement is high, and there may be a lynching if the people can get at the negroes. The man who shot Elliott is still at large.

Watch for QGDART.

There's money in it—Adv.

GORMAN CALLS THE PRESIDENT CZAR, INDICATOR

Bitterly Denounces Interference in Maryland Affairs.

THE WASHINGTON DINNER

"Taken by Negro Race to Mean Promise of Social Equality."

(Special to The Washington Times)

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 24.—Senator Gorman made his first speech of the State campaign this afternoon, addressing the voters of his own county (Howard) at Highfield, a small hamlet about twenty miles from Washington. The locality is remote from the traveled roads. Contrary to his usual habit of reserve, Mr. Gorman spoke with an openness that amazed his hearers, and old campaigners were unanimously of the opinion that he had never before talked so boldly and defiantly.

His address was directed mainly against President Roosevelt, whom he denounced in the severest terms for his interference in the Maryland election fight. The occasion was a meeting called in the interest of his son's candidacy for the State senate.

The Negro's Place.

Mr. Gorman said, among other things: "I regret as much as any man in Maryland that we have the race issue here. So long as the negro is subordinated to the white man in every habitable part of the globe, he is honest and faithful and may be elevated, but when you give to him political power and social equality you transform him into a vend, treacherous and untrustworthy, altogether unfit for the responsibility of the management of affairs of any community."

"The greatest negro of them all, Booker Washington, whom the President of the United States had to dinner, tells his negro vote, and likewise many of the best men of the North, have reached the conclusion that no greater crime against good government, no greater outrage against the white women of our land, has ever been perpetrated than the enfranchisement by constitutional amendment of the negro, who could not and have their effect upon foreign, as well as domestic, affairs."

"It was unfortunate, then, I say, that the President, knowing full well that all thoughtful men of the South, except those politicians who are after the negro vote, and likewise many of the best men of the North, have reached the conclusion that no greater crime against good government, no greater outrage against the white women of our land, has ever been perpetrated than the enfranchisement by constitutional amendment of the negro, who could not and have their effect upon foreign, as well as domestic, affairs."

"When the Supreme Court of the United States, which is almost exclusively Republican, bending to the will of the people and realizing that the all that is good, everything that is everlasting peace, must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the organic law must be changed and put their sanction upon the change in certain of the States of the South, under these circumstances, this President of the United States, who is reckless impetuously, suddenly took this question, and demanded the protection, saw that the